New Telephone Rates Are Necessary

BECAUSE The old rates failed to provide any reserve provision for depreciation or storm damage on an investment by the people of the Province of $22,956,148.57.

- ¶ The old rates barely paid for operating expenses and interest charges on the capital debt.
- ¶ The interest charges of over a million and a quarter annually are fixed and must be paid.
- ¶ Operating expenses have been cut by $10.08 per station in the last few years and can be cut no further without seriously impairing the service.
- ¶ The added revenues will secure adequate protection of the investment and put the telephone utility on a sound financial basis.
- ¶ The individual subscriber's share of the increase is small and he receives dollar for dollar of his rental in good telephone service.
- ¶ With adequate and fair rates, Alberta's telephone system is second to none in America. As a subscriber you appreciate this.

RE ROSE "is good COFFEE"

Immigration, Work and Prosperity

Notwithstanding that one of Canada's greatest needs is a larger population, the amazing fact is that whenever immigration shows a substantial increase, and it has become apparent that the tide of settlement is setting in strongly Canada-wide, an outcry is raised in Labor circles and trade-unions are brought to bear to discourage immigration. Nor is organized labor alone in voicing objections and offering opposition. Frequently church bodies, and sometimes national societies, adopt the same attitude.

This opposition to immigration sometimes finds expression in an attempt to induce the Government and other agencies interested in immigration to discontinue, or greatly curtail, their efforts to induce immigration to Canada. At other times it is revealed by a campaign of the most mischievous, misleading and, not infrequently, absolutely false statements regarding Canadian conditions, a most unparliamentary proceeding.

Most of this opposition is the result of ignorance or the acceptance of half-baked theories on the part of those who seek to prevent or restrict immigration. Some people object to anybody being allowed to enter Canada unless they speak the same language, dress in the same fashion, and worship at the same altar as they themselves do. These timid souls are fearful that they may be swamped, and they insist on Canada being regarded as a special preserve for themselves set aside in the world by an all-wise Providence with "No admittance" signs against people from other lands. They refuse to recognize the fact that all the great national groups of today, including the British, are the result of a fusion, an assimilation, of races.

Organized labor, on the other hand, opposes immigration because a majority of Labor Union members entertain the mistaken idea that by maintaining a scarcity of labor, the opportunities for employment of those already in the country are enhanced, and that higher wages will likewise prevail. The economic and industrial history of the world proves otherwise.

A Melbourne, Australia, man writing in the London Daily Mail declares that progress and development in Australia are both being stifled and held back by the excessive cost of labor. One of the crying needs of Australia to bring about permanent prosperity is the carrying out of irrigation schemes on a huge scale. The recent drought has once again emphasized the old lesson, and it is known that under the benign skies of Australia simple methods of irrigation like those practiced by the peasants of Lombardy would produce astonishing results. But the problem of Australian irrigation is said to be like a hundred other problems there. It is easy to point out what might be done and what should be done, but much more difficult to get it done. The high cost of labor makes it impossible. As a result the farmer and his family struggle along as best they can with rude skill and appliances, but with low efficiency, postponed improvements, and backwardness of agricultural development.

The Labor Unionist looks on immigration as threatening his employment and as a menace to the established standard of wages. He refuses to see that a still graver menace lies in the retarded development of his country, but which development would bring increased employment and good wages for all. He overlooks the fact that immigration, upon a scale which Australia will almost certainly never experience, had little or no effect upon the standard of employment and wages in the United States; rather did it maintain that standard by incessant expansion. The one thing to keep up, or augment, wages in Australia or in Canada for that matter, would be great area of development. Compared with what it might be the rate of present development is slow.

The most prosperous period in Canada in the experience of the present generation was those years following the introduction of an aggressive immigration policy under Clifford Sifton, and when immigrants were pouring into the country. Following the depression of the after-the-war years Canada is once again experiencing better times and an increasing measure of industrial activity and prosperity, with employment plentiful and wages good, and at the same time immigration is heavier than at any time since the outbreak of the war, with an increase of 68 per cent over last year.

And because of this increase immigration, once again the cry is raised to put a stop to it. Canadians as a whole are asked by one section of the population, and for purely selfish and utterly mistaken reasons, to lift the goose that is laying the golden eggs for the Dominion of the present day, while at the same time being productive of a greater development and more prosperous future.

Cobra Deaf to Sound

The cobra is deaf to all sounds, its hearing apparatus consisting of a delicate membrane which receives only ground vibrations. Indian charmers, knowing this, tap the box or basket in which the reptile is kept, partly stunning the creature by the force of the vibrations. It is thus rendered tractable so it can be handled.

Will Not Eliminate Tools

Perhaps the effort to invent a "fool proof" airplane will be successful. There is no reason to doubt that aviation will become safer as human ingenuity develops new devices. But "fool proof" is a large claim. Older means of transportation are not that. And the supply of fools is not likely to be exhausted.

Peace River Coal

Millions of Tons Superior to Highest Grade American Coal

There are millions of tons of very high grade bituminous coal in the Peace River district of Alberta, of a quality superior to the highest grade of American coal, according to D. H. McDougall, former general manager of the Dominion Iron and Steel Company and vice-president of the Empire Steel Corporation, who is in Halifax after a visit to the Alberta coal deposits, about which he has prepared a report.

Mr. McDougall said he did not think the development of these coal fields would affect the coal industry in Quebec, Canada, as Alberta coal would always find a ready market along the Pacific coast of the United States.

He described the Peace River district deposits as being the "greatest in Canada" and said they were available for mining at the lowest operating costs.

Meet Success on Canadian Farms

Britishers Train in Old Country to Learn Conditions in Canada

So successful on Canadian farms have been young hachelors who, prior to residence in this country, were students in agriculture at the Haddleigh Salvation Army Schools in Essex, England, that the Army will shortly receive into those institutions their first classes of graduates men destined for farm lands in the Dominion. The course will be given during six months, and will mean a thorough training in branches of agriculture, particularly adapted to conditions in Canada.

A HAPPY CHILDHOOD A MATTER OF HEALTH

Let Baby's Own Tablets Keep Your Children Well

Little children very quickly get out of sorts. By prompt treatment they can usually stay as quickly be set right again. Most of their troubles arise in the first place from the stomach or bowels; that is why a good cleansing-out is the first thing prescribed by the doctor. Formerly castor oil was the means used to bring this about; now-a-days Baby's Own Tablets do the same work, but without trouble to the parent or discomfort to the little one. Children take Baby's Own Tablets happily because there is no nasty taste and because no gripping after-pains follow their use.

As a specific for childhood indigestion, vomiting, constipation, colic, colds, teething pains, etc., there is nothing to equal Baby's Own Tablets. They never do harm and always do good. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Seed Treatment Of Wheat To Control Smut And Other Diseases Gives Larger Yield

That crop losses caused by parasitic organisms such as fungi and bacteria, amount to many millions of dollars annually is the statement made by the Natural Resources Intelligence Service of the Department of the Interior at Ottawa. The remedy is seed disinfection.

Dr. Clayton Roberts Orton, Professor of Plant Pathology at Pennsylvania State College is engaged in research along this line and has been able to trace the spread of plant diseases through seed distribution in many cases. Through the sale and distribution of infected seed, parasites have been widely distributed throughout the production areas of the world. Some parasites, such as the cereal smuts, are known to be distributed wherever these crops are grown.

Seed treatment of wheat, oats, barley, etc., will control smut and other diseases and result in a yield increase valued greatly in excess of the expense involved. For seed disinfection, formaldehyde, copper and corrosive sublimate have been generally considered standard, but each has its limitations. More recently organic mercuries have come to the attention of scientists studying the problem of seed disinfection. These appear to be superior to any material previously used, giving as wide a range of toxicity to parasites and a much wider margin of safety.

Seedmen are beginning to place interest in seed treatment and it is predicted that in a few years only disinfect seed will be sold or seed produced under such conditions as to be relatively free from seed-borne parasites.

Tankage for Nursing Sows

Provides a Useful Part of the Ration, As Shown by Tests

Tankage has been proved at the Brandon Experimental Farm to provide a useful part of the ration for sows raising litters. A test was made with three sows with litters of twenty-seven pigs, and three with litters of twenty-eight all approximately of the same age. The meat ration fed one group was made up of oat chop two parts, barley chop one part, bran one part, and shorts one part, with three per cent oil cake meal added. The second group was fed a similar ration but included two per cent of tankage. Seven pounds of meal per sow per day were fed in each case. The extra cost of feeding the sows with tankage for twenty-five days was 62 cents. The sows receiving the tankage lost 29 1/2 pounds less than those in the other lot, while the litters of tankage fed lot gained 12 1/2 pounds more than those in the check lot. This test is reported in the Brandon Experimental Farm report for 1925, available at the Publications Branch of the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Okanagan Fruit Crop

Estimated That Apple Crop Will be Heavier This Year

It is estimated by the Horticultural Department of the Provincial Government that the apple crop of the Okanagan district will reach a total of 2,317,000 boxes, as compared with the total crop last year of 2,252,449 boxes. The crab apple estimate is for 137,850 boxes, as compared with 115,623 boxes last year; pears 160,500 boxes, compared with 145,451; plums and prunes, 215,250 boxes, as against 217,766 boxes last year.

European Wheat Crop Lags

The wheat crop of Europe is officially estimated at 77,979,000 bushels as compared with 78,444,000 last year, according to a cable received by the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa. The total wheat production of nineteen European countries is 960,691,000 bushels against 1,025,820,000 last year, a decrease of 65,000,000 bushels.

Electricity and Steam

Electrification of Railways Now Beyond the Experimental Stage

Electrification of railways is well beyond the experimental stage in London and in several of the large provincial cities, such as Liverpool. It gives greater speed, a more frequent service of trains, and a pleasant immunity from the smoke and dirt inseparable from steam locomotion. Technical authorities incline to the opinion that the big towns will be girdled by gradually widening circles, but that steam will at least for many years, hold its own for long distance haulage. The progress already recorded is so satisfactory that we can afford to possess ourselves in patience and await future developments.

Northern Alberta Crops

Oats Will Yield Sixty to Seventy Bushels to the Acre

Thirty bushel wheat crops will be common in the northern agricultural districts this year, according to estimates given by agents along the lines of the Edmonton, Hinton and British Columbia Railway. From every district—except one—indications are that a bumper crop will be harvested in the Northland. In the majority of districts oats will yield sixty to seventy bushels per acre, with barley running in the neighborhood of forty bushels per acre.

Farmer (to chemist): Now be sure and mark plain on them bottles—which is for my wife and which is for the cow. I don't want nothing to happen to that Jersey cow.

Succulent Annual Pastures

Palatable and Profitable Green Feed for Livestock

There are three succulent annual pastures particularly grown in this country. These are rape, kale and cabbage. The last named is not often referred to as regards its quality as a forage plant, but as stated in a recently issued pamphlet by the Forage Crop Division of the Central Experimental Farm at Ottawa, the Savoy (wrinkled leaf) and Drumhead (smooth-leaf) types make a succulent, palatable and profitable addition to our annual pastures. Experiments have been conducted for several years at the Central and branch farms and stations throughout Canada. High moisture makes them difficult to cure, but also is responsible for their giving satisfactory results when pastured or fed green.

In the pamphlet, which is available at the Publications Branch of the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, is given a table of results from tests at the Central Experimental Farm and also quotations from reports received from different branch farms and stations in all the provinces, showing the suitability of these fleshy annual crops for a wide range of soil and climatic conditions. In Prince Edward Island rape has proved good pasture in the fall for steers. In Nova Scotia it has proven the same for hogs. Brandon, Manitoba, results indicate that rape has an important place as a quick pasture for cattle, sheep and hogs. It recovers quickly from frost. Rape is generally known throughout the west as an affording good pasture for lambs, brood sows and growing pigs.

Kale is grown extensively in the Fraser Valley and on Vancouver Island and has proven one of the best available green foods for poultry and for milch cows.

Homestead Entries In West To Date Are Reported Greater Than For The Entire Year 1925

B.C. Honey Yield

A Wide Variety of Flavors in Coast Province Product

British Columbia, apparently, is the only province where the honey yield is expected to approach normal, and even in this case the crop is described as scanty. However, as high as 25 cents per pound is being bid for the product from the Pacific Coast, and dispatches indicate there will be no difficulty in disposing of any surplus over home requirements in the Prairie Provinces.

While there is a wide variety in flavor of honey in any section, because bees gather the nectar from many different sources, that made in British Columbia, on account of the great range in climate, seems to be distinct from any other in the Dominion. The honey coming from apiaries located in the mountains has a particularly pleasing flavor in most cases, but just what plant is responsible for this is not altogether known. Bees may in a few minutes reach a spot on the mountain side that is almost inaccessible to man. Prospectors have reported seeing bees working over a plant locally known as false heather which grows on high, rocky ledges.

Alberta Wheat Pool

Four hundred thousand additional acres the province have been signed up during the present year, according to an announcement made by officials of the Alberta Wheat Pool. The Alberta Pool expects to handle sixty per cent of this year's crop.

Too many men try to adjust their religion to fit their business.

Homesteading, as Government land in Canada showed a large increase for the first seven months of the present year, says a Canadian Pacific bulletin.

In this period a total of 3,850 homesteads were filed on in Western Canada, as compared with 2,686 in 1925, an increase of more than 8 per cent. Every province showed a substantial gain, the largest being in Manitoba, where the number was 632, as compared with 269 in 1925. Other figures were: Saskatchewan, 1,711, against 927; Alberta, 1,347, against 106; and British Columbia, 89, against 74.

The bulletin says that their filings accounted for the settlement of 513,800 acres of land, and that if only half of this acreage were needed to wheat and produced the average yield of last year, it would have raised the production of western wheat by nearly 6,000,000 bushels. The bulletin continues:

"The homestead entries for the first seven months of 1926 are greater than for the entire year 1925, and approximately equal to the entire filings of the year 1924."

Unemployment in Britain

Over One Million Persons in Receipt of Poor Relief

On one day in July of this year 1,060,548 persons were in receipt of poor relief in 21 selected areas of Great Britain. While this is 1.7 per cent less than the previous month, it is 63.9 per cent greater than in July, 1925. According to advice just received by Bankers Trust Company of New York from its British Information Service, 504 out of every 10,000 of the estimated population were in receipt of aid in July of this year compared with 614 in June and only 794 in July of last year.

Of the above total of 1,060,548, 905,945 were persons living in England or Wales, and of this total 114,734 received indoor relief and the balance, 791,211, received outdoor relief. In Scotland the total receiving aid was 171,903, of which 3,484 received indoor relief and 168,419 outdoor relief.

New Feeder Purchase Policy

To Encourage Eastern Livestock Men to Purchase Feeders in the West

The new feeder purchase policy recently authorized by the Minister of Agriculture, will be in effect from September 1 to December 1. This is for the purpose of ensuring the success of the feeder shows to be held in Western Canada this fall, and to provide an opportunity to form a connection with Western ranchers for the securing of their annual supply of feeder cattle and feeder lambs. Under the terms of the policy, the Live Stock Branch will pay the reasonable travelling expenses of a farmer from Eastern Canada who purchases one or more carloads of stock at the Western sales to be brought back East for feeding purposes.

An Old Irish Tune

The "Yankee Doodle" is not American at all but Irish, says Dr. Gratton Flood, an Irish authority on musical history. He asserts that "Yankee Doodle" was originally an Irish air known as "All the Way to Galway." Also "God Save the King," the British national anthem, Dr. Flood says, is an old Irish tune which originated about 1595—London Despatch.

Signor Marconi practically lives on his yacht. His crew consists almost entirely of Italians, but every man is specially trained and everything goes like clockwork. Marconi is always making wireless experiments and he cruises incessantly from port to port round the coast of Britain, seldom sleeping on shore two nights in succession.

New Motor Oil

Chemists, seeking a substitute for motor oil, which has to be imported, have found a way to secure the oil from grass seeds. "All the Way to Galway" is of very high quality and suitable for airplane engine. Seven or eight gallons of oil are taken from the seeds in a ton of grass.

"Daddy" Blair of the Wild and Woolly West

1. One of the stampedes Dad attended. Hudson Bay Parade, 1926, at the age of 85.

"A world-weary Old Timer, one of the plunkers of the Canadian West, died recently in Edmonton at the age of 94. He was known as 'Daddy' Blair, but his real name was Telegraph Alexander Blair. As a scout, soldier and adventurer he carried the Hudson's Bay Company flag into the remote corners of the West for half a century, finally bowing his sturdy shoulders before the ravages of age. Since the inauguration of stampedes in various cities in the West, Daddy was always one of the first to attend no matter how much he felt the weight of his years. He made his last effort in 1926 when he attended the Hudson's Bay Parade in Edmonton at the age of 85.

Dad was only fourteen years of age when he left the old homestead near Montreal. The glamour, the excitement, the risk and mystery of the life, the objects of the performance, the tumultuous applause of happy pleasure-seekers, lured him. Even the dirt bit into his blood and away went Dad around the world with Barnum's circus.

One day in London, Daddy was taking one of Barnum's night-herald teams. A little girl ran suddenly in to the street. There was a shout, a shriek from one of the spectators, and before anyone knew what was happening Daddy had wrenched the poppies almost completely around, saving the child's life by about two inches. In the mix-up Daddy fell into the muddy street, ruining his clothes. Her Majesty Queen Victoria, who happened to witness the scene, called the next day, shook hands with Daddy and had a suit of clothes sent to him.

Blair started for the Northwest in 1855, walking from Ottawa to Fort Garry. When the Canadian Pacific Railway was building late Winnipeg he was put to work on a gang under Tom Scott, who was later the first victim of the Rio Reguillon. It was Scott who changed Blair's name to Blair.

For over thirty years the Man Who Wanted Adventure went up and down the country. He served as a scout for General Strang; he was attached to the service of Lord Strathcona, then Donald Smith of the C.P.R., he carried mail for Hudson's Bay Company over the Crow's Nest Trail; and he narrowly escaped being hanged to death by Indians. Daddy got the adventure he had thought he wanted and he died more satisfied than many another man would have been.

For many years, in the sunset of his life, Daddy was a familiar figure on the streets of Edmonton with his stately, patriarchal moustache and soldierly bearing. But he ended up as a caretaker for buildings, and finally, when the old man could work no longer, he was taken care of by Miss Chatham of the Anglican Mission. Then Daddy's eyes began to grow dimmer. On sunny days he would ask pitifully, "Why is it so dark. Doesn't the sun come out to play any more?" So it grew darker, the giant frame grew weaker and weaker, and the tired old feet which had carried their burden through a glorious, carefree life of adventure, turned towards the Happy Hunting Grounds where they will have to trudge over rough roads no more.

SEND OUT APPEAL FROM FLORIDA FOR RELIEF FUNDS

Miami, Fla.—Prostrate under the ravages of the tropical hurricane and with suffering among the injured and homeless almost indescribable, Miami has appealed to the people of the United States for a vast sum for relief and rehabilitation work.

The message went out immediately after Henry M. Baker, National director of disaster relief for the American Red Cross, had arrived here and taken charge of the relief work in all of the stricken districts of Florida.

While awaiting a response to its urgent cry for help, the city, with aid of federal, states and other agencies, went doggedly ahead with its relief work. Thousands of doctors, nurses, soldiers, sailors, marines and other relief workers labored to care for the injured and homeless and to recover the dead still impounded in many of the 5,000 homes that were wrecked and in the debris-littered waters of Biscayne Bay.

The forces on hand is proving inadequate for the task. Red Cross headquarters announced that additional nurses were urgently needed as well as serums for use in preventing epidemics. Aeroplanes have been bringing in anti-toxins, and as fast as they arrive are sent northward again for additional supplies.

For The Public Health

Need Widespread Campaign to Educate the General Public
Saskatoon.—The necessity of a widespread campaign to educate the general public as to the means of combating influenza, small pox and typhoid fever, was strongly emphasized by Dr. H. H. Seymour, Department of Public Health, Regina, in addressing the Saskatchewan Medical Association in session at the University of Saskatchewan.

The speaker suggested a definite plan of action which provided for the co-operation of the medical men, the Department of Education, the press, the clergy and every other organization that could further the work.

The association expressed its complete endorsement of the scheme. Other speakers were Dr. E. E. Shepley, Saskatoon; Dr. J. S. Brown, Saskatoon; Dr. George C. Hale, London, Ont., and Dr. W. H. Coles, Regina.

The object of the meeting is "to consider the course to be pursued by the Conservative Party in the forthcoming session."

French Regret Corsica Incident
Rome.—The French Government has conveyed to Premier Mussolini its regret at the recent incident at Bastia, Corsica, where crowds attacked the Italian consulate and obliged Italian ships in the harbor to hoist the French flag. The communication says the French Government has ordered a severe investigation and exemplary punishment of those found guilty.

Work On H. B. Railway

Expect 1,000 Men Will be Employed Until End of Season

The Pass, Man.—Two hundred miles of track on the Hudson's Bay Railway has reached first lift stage. It is now good for trains running 25 miles per hour and with a full lift in the spring it will be in first class condition and ready for anything.

This track is 175 miles out from The Pass and between Miles 224 and 254, gangs are working both ways to finish the work on the intervening gap. The pioneer gang is at Mile 317, 26 miles from Kettle River bridge, the present end of the steel, which point will be reached inside a month.

Cuts have all been widened and drained and gangs are at work renewing and replacing wooden bridges. Four carpenter crews are erecting work tanks. The telegraph line is now in shape and in operation as far as Mile 217.

Two steam shovels have been continuously working at Mile 127 and 254 respectively with six trains disposing of the output.

Three hundred and twenty thousand ties have been distributed during the season, 255,000 of which have been placed in the road, all except 100,000 being creosoted, thus ensuring as permanent a job as possible.

The number of men employed is increasing. A month ago it was 700, now there are 825 on the payroll and another big gang is expected tomorrow, making the total well over 900. The 1,000 mark may be reached before the season closes. The change which has taken place in the road during the last couple of months is almost incredible and in another month the engineers hope to have 300 miles completed.

As soon as freeze compels the stopping of the work on the grade, 500 men will be employed in clearing right-of-way, burning the replaced ties and in other work, which can be done at that time.

Sees Another Labor

Government For Britain

MacDonald Party Will Win in the Next Election Says Hon. F. O. Roberts

Montreal.—Predictions that in the next general British elections the Labor Party with Ramsey MacDonald at its head would be returned to office with a sufficient majority to shape and put into effect those policies which the working men so far had been unable to obtain through industrial organization, even through the great general strike, was made by the Rt. Hon. F. O. Roberts, who was Minister of Pensions in the MacDonald Government. The speech was at the convention of the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress.

Mr. Roberts is fraternal delegate of the British General Trades Union Congress and he dealt with the coal strike and the general strike denunciation of Premier Baldwin, the Bishop of London and Dean Inge being enlivening parts of a speech which stirred the convention deeply.

That the "reds" never would gain North America was a statement made by James B. Connors, president of the Switchmen's Union, who is fraternal delegate of the American Federation of Labor.

Ship Is Scuttled

Sea Valves on Old Man-of-War

Opened by Mischievous Boys
Sydney, N.S.—The old wooden man-of-war, Pelican, once one of the smartest vessels of the British North American squadron, was sunk at her moorings here election night by mischievous boys who opened her sea valves. She now lies in 25 feet of water, and an effort will be made to raise her next spring. Citizens of Sydney are planning to purchase the old vessel.

Expect Heavy Fines
Winnipeg.—Fines in excess of $4,000 were imposed on violators of the Manitoba Temperance Act in police court here. The Crown secured convictions in 15 out of 57 cases brought to trial. Forty cases were remanded. It was the heaviest docket in many years.

Take Refuge on U.S. ships
Ten Tails.—Renewed demonstrations of hostility against the British in Yangtze-Kiang River, Yalley caused many British nationals to take refuge aboard the United States warships patrolling the river.

MORE SETTLED CONDITIONS AND IMPROVED TRADE

Montreal.—"Whatever the adverse influence of a political campaign upon business—and that which ended on the 14th was inconsiderable—it has ceased to be," says the monthly business summary of the Bank of Montreal.

The incoming Government has secured a majority sufficient for its purpose—one giving reasonable assurance of stability during the ordinary term of office, and a factor favoring continued improvement of trade."

Speaking of crop conditions the summary says:

"Gauging the harvest is the work of the moment and as a whole the harvest at a conservative estimate is well up to the average."

"Business generally remains satisfactory and the outlook presents no cause for misgiving."

Have Not Definitely

Rejected Conference

But Representatives of the Striking Miners Condemn Prime Minister's Proposal

London.—The entire executive committee of the British Miners' Federation met Premier Stanley Baldwin and the cabinet, coal committee in Downing street and declared Mr. Baldwin's latest plan to end the coal strike was a complete change of front from the earlier promise to the miners made by Rt. Hon. Winston Churchill, Chancellor of the Exchequer. Although condemning the Prime Minister's proposal that the miners yield on the point of national bargaining with the mine owners, the strikers' representatives did not definitely reject the compromise, but left loopholes open to allow for further negotiations with the Government.

Build Another Plane

Sikorsky Hopes to Have Plane Ready for Trans-Atlantic Flight in Spring

Westbury, N.Y.—Igor Sikorsky, designer and builder of the ill-fated S-35, in which two of Captain Funcher lost their lives in an attempted take-off for Paris, hopes to have another plane built by spring for a second attempt at a non-stop trans-Atlantic flight, he states.

It was learned that plans are already in preparation for the construction of a plane. Mr. Sikorsky intimated that in the next flight, he means to go along as mechanic to prove his confidence in his own work.

Royal Wedding in December

Brussels, Belgium.—The wedding of Crown Prince Leopold to Princess Astrid has been provisionally fixed for some time in December.

Fortune Returning Through Coal Strike

Hugo Stinnes, Jr., Takes Long Term Contracts From Former British Markets

Berlin.—Hugo Stinnes, Jr., 29-year-old heir of Germany's war-time Croesus, today is regaining the financial throne which was his by right of inheritance and from which he was ousted last year after a brief period as head of the vast combination of trusts created by his father.

Thanks to the British coal strike, now in its fifth month, the younger Hugo's fortune is returning. Adroitly exploiting the small properties he retained after last year's crash, Hugo, Jr., has developed a coal export business from which, according to his associates, he has pocketed within 18,000 profit. France, Scandinavia, Holland and South America have purchased his offerings. It was estimated that his sales had increased from 2,000,000 to 2,500,000 tons as a result of the British strike, and he has obtained many long-term coal contracts in former British markets thereby assuring continued profits.

"The Liberal leaders in the Mother Land will have particular cause to regret Mr. King's absence from London," Truth adds, "for who is more fitted than he to give useful tips on the way to sweep the country?"

Continuing in a humorous vein, Truth proceeds to suggest that Mackenzie King should be invited to preside over a friendly and strictly private conference at which Lord Oxford and Asquith, Lloyd George, Walter Runciman, M.P., and a few other choice spirits could consult with him freely on the best method of leading a party.

Failling this, the next best thing would be for all of them to go to Canada for a winter course of instruction.

BARON BYNG IS OPTIMISTIC OVER CANADA'S FUTURE

Toronto.—Ontario officially had farwell and God speed to the retiring Governor-General of Canada, Lord Byng, and Lady Byng.

In terms expressing loyalty to the Crown, Premier Howard Ferguson addressed their excellencies at a banquet tendered them by Ontario Government. His Honor Col. Harry Cockshutt, the Lieutenant-Governor, and Right Hon. Sir William Mulock, Chief Justice of the Ontario Supreme Court, added their adieu to that of the Prime Minister.

When the victor of Vimy rose to reply, cheer upon cheer arose from the assembly.

"Ties that have been so deeply rooted, ties that have been consecrated by such enduring reminiscences, can never fade or wither," Baron Byng said after recounting briefly his admiration for the 300,000 Canadian troops who stormed Vimy Ridge on April 9, 1917, and his optimism for the future of Canada.

"And to our dying day we shall remember with feelings which cannot be expressed in words the extraordinary marks of confidence and good will we have received from your citizens."

"I am going home with an optimism about Canada that nothing can shake," the Governor-General said, amid cheers. "I have seen your country and your people and I go home optimistic more than ever for the Dominion."

Doing Excellent Work

Feeder Shows Held by Western Canada Help Livestock Industry

Moose Jaw.—The Dublin correspondent of the Meat Traders' Journal, London, England, compliments Western Canada on the excellent work being done for the livestock industry in the Feeder Shows, which have now become an established custom at Edmonton, Calgary, Moose Jaw and Winnipeg.

The correspondent advises the Irish breeders and requests them to go to example. "As it would be an educational incentive to improve breeding all round, and enable those interested to experiment regarding the best crosses suitable for modern requirements, and so possibly increase the demand for young cattle from Ireland."

Sobriety in Italy

Mussolini Encourages Restrictions on the Use of Alcohol

London.—"Encouraged by Mussolini, the school authorities of Italy have forbidden the students to take bottles of wine to school with their lunches," Ed. J. Richardson, European secretary of the World League Against Alcoholism, returning from a tour of Italy, announced.

"Mussolini is working strenuously for sobriety among the youth. Italy now has a fascist law forbidding any wine-shop to sell liquor to those under 18 years of age."

"Furthermore, there is a widespread movement to educate the more ignorant classes not to give any alcoholic drinks to children in the houses."

Planes Lost in Storm

Mobile, Ala.—Thirty-five aeroplanes at the Pensacola naval station were lost in the storm that belatedly descended for more than 24 hours, the Associated Press reported. There had been no loss of life, but property loss would reach $2,000,000.

The aeroplanes cost $45,000 each, and are practically a total loss. Loss to the naval station itself was heavy.

Artists Destitute in Berlin

Berlin.—More than 2,000 destitute artists of all branches are included in the army of Berlin's unemployed. Of these artists who are unable to find work, 625 are actors, 589 painters, 252 opera singers, 102 sculptors and 89 writers.

A Wonderful Record of Growth

1. President Stout congratulating Eddie Hand, the oldest driver in employ at Toronto. 2. Samuel Nightingale and "Babe". 3. Latest type of heavy express vehicle.

The romance of the early history of the Dominion Express Company, which started to serve the Canadian public in 1882 with one horse and a second-hand wagon, and the wonderful progress that has been made during the forty-four years of its existence, was recalled last week by the striking parades that were held simultaneously in the four biggest cities of Canada to celebrate the Company's change of name to the "Canadian Pacific Express Co."

Whole fleets of motor express vehicles of all types, including the new trailer, bearing in shining letters their newly assumed name made their way through the streets of Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg and Vancouver, on September first, when the change of name became effective.

But the horse-drawn wagons and ancient servants of the Company were not forgotten; in Montreal the parade was led through the principal streets of the city by Samuel Nightingale, who is completing his 36th year in the service, driving "Babe," a remarkable little horse that has served the Company for 19 years and can still take the steepest hills on high. The wagon in which Mr. Nightingale was seated was put into the service in 1890 and is still on duty route.

The Vancouver procession was led by the oldest pensioner of the company in this district, Robert Mason, of North Vancouver, who joined on July 17, 1889, and included the oldest double team wagon in regular use in the company's business in Canada, driven by F. J. Everett, himself an old-timer of 36 years.

Eddie Hand, leader of the parade at Toronto, was personally congratulated by W. S. Stout, President of the Canadian Pacific Express Company, on his 41 years of continuous active service.

Mr. Stout, who has been president of the Dominion Express Company many years, it was incorporated, almost a half century ago with seven agencies and a territory of 445 miles. To-day the service extends over the breadth of Canada and to all parts of the world with something over 4700 agencies.

In assuming a name that is more closely identified with the parent transportation system, it is thought that the Canadian Pacific Express Co. will reap increased business in both Canada and in other countries.

Here and There

More than 500,000 people will have visited Ste. Anne de Beaupre this year when the season ends. It is already an increase over last year when 304,322 persons visited this famous shrine. During the week ending August 22nd, 43,900 pilgrims visited Ste. Anne.

Halifax.—Considerable quantities of swordfish are being shipped from Nova Scotia to the Boston market at the present time. This commodity has found a good market in Boston and shipments to that city average around ten to fifteen thousand pounds a day during the shipping season.

September is becoming a popular month for marriages judging by the number of honeymoon couples leaving from Windsor Street Station, Montreal, recently. On Labor Day no less than 60 couples boarded the Canadian Pacific trains at this depot. The record established for one day, however, was some years ago in June when 70 couples left Windsor Station one morning.

The new North Channel below Quebec will be opened to navigation on June 1 next and continue during the high water season, according to a recent announcement of the Marine Department. The new channel extends in a straight line from St. Jean, Isle of Orleans, to near the north shore. The work has been underway for the past ten years. The minimum depth of water at high tide will be 55 feet. When all the work is done there will be the same minimum at low tide.

"The Little Fed Schoolhouse" will be brought on rails to the children living in the remote areas along the Canadian Pacific in Northern Ontario between Sudbury and Charlevoix. Fully equipped with desks and teachers' accommodations the railway cars will visit about six points a month. There are about 400 pupils in these areas of the North who suffer disadvantages from the lack of school accommodation. It is expected that eventually the entire area will be served by travelling schools.

Immigration to Canada in the first six months of 1926 amounted to 70,253, compared with 43,241 in the same period a year ago, an increase of 62 per cent, according to a statement issued by the Department of Immigration and Colonization. In the period under review British immigration increased from 29,452 to 27,849; immigration from the United States increased from 8,036 to 10,037 and from other countries increased from 14,765 to 32,397. Immigration for the month of June amounted to 12,191, an increase of 50% over June a year ago.

Saint John.—Representatives of Boards of Trade from all over the Dominion will gather here about the end of September or the middle of October for the first annual meeting of the Canadian Board of Trade. All three days are to be devoted to committee work on the larger questions of importance to the country at this time, including cost of government, immigration, taxation problems, preservation of the identity of Canadian grain, industrial research, trade and commerce, domestic and export, and particular attention is to be given to some system of facilitating inter-provincial trade.

Eight Pacific type locomotives, known as the G-3-d class and similar in general design to the well known 2,300 series Pacific class locomotive of the Canadian Pacific Railway, have been delivered to the Company. They are part of an order of 24 of these locomotives. By a special application of superheaters, greater power is developed. Delivery has also been commenced on an order of twenty Mikado type locomotives of the 5,300 type which have the same improvements. Both class of engine are part of the general equipment for which a provision of $14,794,640 was made in the last annual report of the Company.

When he was satisfied by his observations, which occupied hardly more than a brief hesitation, Lord Teddy moved closer on the cushioned divan—only the knee, which was crossed and pointed his way halted him. His voice, when he spoke, was little above a murmur.

"Please," he pleaded, "don't let us pretend. It's much nicer not to, really. You do it splendidly but you couldn't be wholly successful. When a woman has had so much experience, old enough, you know, so that a man knows there's nothing new under either the sun or the moon for her, then she has to pretend that she hasn't. You learned that everything is what it is and not what's in copy books. If she didn't she'd be too forbidding, so we know she's serious about it. But when a lovely girl makes believe she doesn't understand everything and everybody we know she's just mocking. Because she thinks she does, anyway. Don't you?"

Joanna regarded him elaborately, frankly imitating his own examination of her mouth before. "Yes," she said, her pleasant smile playing up to him. "Then you have a way with you—as a teacher. I suppose you've a diploma, or some good references or things like that?" His ready laughter bubbled through his mask of seriousness.

"Only experience, my lovely Joanna," he said, finding her hand among the cushions and taking possession of it with both of his own. "My experience will have to be your guide, and yours my ambition." When he had finished he gave her lips, fragile fingers a confidential pressure, and looked into her own shining eyes with a deep smile in his. She seemed to be unconcerned about her friend. She even moved her knee, a little, to help him out down the space between them. She said, then:

"We seem to be making a bargain of some sort. When you happen to think about it, tell me what it is won't you? The best I can get out of it is that you want to be a guide and you've ambitions of some kind. I like ambition tremendously. It's so much fun flattening them out!"

"Yes," he admitted. "You'd flatten out almost anybody, I should imagine. You wouldn't be afraid of missing anything. That's why I'd like it with you!" She nodded at him. "I know," she finished for him. "If I'd give you my other hand, too, and let you fill up the rest of the distance between us. Then you could tell me just how pretty you think I am, and how you've always been crazy about hair like mine and you'd like to run your fingers through it, and maybe you'd have something new along that line that I'd never heard before and then you'd end up by saying I was just made for somebody to love a lot and you're somebody. Have I forgotten anything?"

"Not a thing," he declared. "When do we begin?"

This time they laughed together buoyantly. Joanna decided she was going to enjoy this fair haired, blunt cut young man whose chief aim in life, according to Yvonne, was consoling neglected wives. He was amazingly handsome, as easily read to her—as an open book, and she was convinced utterly harmless. Yvonne's picture of him puzzled her. She concluded he would be easily in his thirties, but already she was becoming accustomed to older men than her "dancing boys" had been. John always had appeared older to her than any of the other chaps she knew, although he wasn't in years. She was astonished, secretly, at her own ability to be interesting to men who must have served many apprenticeships at more dazzling shirnes than his.

She was still disturbed by that ready supposition of his at their sudden meeting earlier in the afternoon. She reminded him of it again, and declared that she wouldn't be satisfied with him until he had made satisfactory explanation. He was not abashed.

"You were such a surprise," he assured her. "Not at all like the usual girl one sees about, in places. I'm fearfully fed up, you know, on girls, most girls, I mean. They're not their enthusiasm. You're enthusiastic. Sort of caught me up sharply with it. And you haven't been spoiled. The girls one meets nowadays seem to be spoiled, that is, too many of them. The kind I know. They're the daughters of the crowd that have their own, you know. Funny, but it has always struck me that when a woman gets a chow dog her daughter goes to the devil. Really doesn't go to the devil, you know, but tries to act like she has been to him and found him too old-fashioned to be amusing. Now you're different. As soon as I saw you I was sure there were no chows in your family. Are there?"

"My friends," she called to them. "I'm in a daring mood tonight."

"Not having any family, there aren't any," she said, quietly.

"Right!" There's a reference for you. You see I'm always right about women. You're a flapper without a chow background. There's a heap of difference. If I were a literary chap now, I'd put that in a book, or something. As it is you'll have to figure it out yourself. It's deeper than I usually go. I thought you must be something different, and I couldn't think of anything but singing girls and dancing girls. As a rule they've got sense, anyway. The debutantes that imitate them haven't—by the same rule. Now am I forgiven?"

"I never forgive a man anything," she declared promptly. "It always makes him dangerous." "That's your difference," he discovered eagerly. "The kind of girl I don't like, the kind that isn't near so daring as you are. In the one who's always trying to forgive. They say it adds to excitement."

Yvonne's voice interrupted. She dropped into a chair and surveyed the pair on the divan. "You two seem to be hitting it off quite satisfactorily," she commented. "No entangling confidences, I hope." Of Joanna, she asked: "He's relieved himself of his own admirations for his pun at Doris and Pen, I suppose?"

"We'd just started on them when we cut all preliminaries and got down

Take a REAL HOLIDAY this FALL!

Go to Europe! It's your slack season here in Canada, but in England, the social season, with all its life and amusements, is just getting into its stride. The lights of London are beckoning—the theatres and shops offer a diversity of interests and pleasures.

Plan now to make the crossing on a Cunard or Anchor-Donaldson Canadian Service Cabin Class Steamer. You will find the trip itself a most enjoyable experience. Sailing from Montreal means a thousand miles of sheltered river-travel before you come to the open sea which is crossed in a few delightful days.

Ask your steamship agent about the St. Lawrence route to Europe, or write—to ourselves," Teddy informed her innocently. "We've made progress. I shall be here tomorrow promptly at four to continue matters."

"You will not!" Yvonne corrected him. "Miss Manners—by the way have you made it 'Joanna' yet? I see that you have—Well then, Joanna has a day mapped out. There's some important things to attend to. And you can run along now, Teddy if you will. You may fix yourself a drink on your way out."

When he was gone Yvonne and Joanna took up the "important" matters of the morrow: "The automobile, its chauffeur—" "I'll and you one," Yvonne agreed—and a descent upon a famous jewelry house.

"There'll be a crowd here tomorrow night," Yvonne explained. "That's what Teddy was referring to. I'm making it a big crowd in your honor. I've already planned a night of it, but I've elaborated for you. You'll meet everyone and they'll meet you. I'll have an unmarried senator and two married ones, without their wives; a few exiled Russian princes, and a smattering of their princesses. You'll like the Russian girls. Some South Americans who will make you think, always, of unbridled passion, diamonds, and everybody who's in love with me or wants to be. That'll make a representative party. I'm keen to know how you'll like it—the crowd I mean. Between Brandon and Roddy, to say 'nothing of Roddy, you'll be presented. I fancy you'll be properly admired."

Joanna looked up sharply at the mention of Brandon and Kenilworth. She detected a change in Yvonne's tone as she pronounced the names. She wanted to ask her about these two, for she knew Yvonne shared with Brandon, at least, some intrigue concerning her. But she thought better of the impulse. Her thoughts went back to John.

"Have him come to you here, by all means," Yvonne insisted, shrewdly.

ly. "I fancy he is a young man who will require handling if you continue to be concerned about him. Shall you—be much concerned about him?"

The suddenness of the challenge caught Joanna off her guard. She dropped her eyes. All at once she was conscious that her lips were quivering, and that she was concerned. It wasn't quite straight in her mind, but she had put away something Teddy Dominator had said for later consideration, and it came back to her, now a little confusedly. "She was enthusiastic. But a flapper without a chow dog background. And you haven't been spoiled."

She wondered why John had not understood as well as Teddy Dominator. She decided she'd find out, soon! "I shall be so much concerned," she said to Yvonne, "that I'll go around hunting and music!"

WHEN YOUNG GIRLS GROW PALE AND THIN

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Should be Taken to Enrich the Blood.

When girls grow weak, pale and thin, parents should not neglect these symptoms; to do so means danger. The girl in her teen cannot develop into robust womanhood without an abundant supply of rich red blood in her veins. It is the lack of this that is the great trouble with nine girls out of ten. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have achieved world-wide fame for their remarkable blood-making properties. In these pills there is vigorous health, with glowing cheeks and sparkling eyes for every weak, pale girl. The value of the pills in cases of this kind is shown by the statement of Mrs. Winifred Rutty, Barrie, Ont.: "I was in Hamilton, Ont., who is a eldest girl got into very bad health. I took her to a doctor who advised having her blood renewed, saying this was the seat of the trouble. We had them removed, but it did not help her, and she seemed to have absorbed so much poison from the trouble that she did not pick up at all. She could neither eat nor sleep, and what food she did take did not digest. Then she developed a cough that kept her awake at night, and went down in weight to 95 pounds. A neighbor said to me, 'You have tried so many things why not try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills?' I got some and before she finished the second box she began to show improvement. She continued the use of the pills for some time and is now in the pink of condition, able to work and play, and eat and sleep with all her old-time vigor. These statements can be verified by neighbors who testify that she is restored from ill health to perfect health. If your medicine dealer does not keep these pills you can get them by mail at 50c a box from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont."

Saves $24 A Year

Cooking experts figure that the SMP Enamelled Ware Roaster will save the average Canadian family fully $24.00 a year in meat bills. The secret is, it roasts the meat with very little shrinkage. Also, it makes cheap cuts taste like the best ones.

You place the roast in the roaster, put on the cover; the roaster does the rest. No tending required. Every roast is perfectly cooked.

The cover fits close, so that cooking does not escape. Grease can't spill out, which means a sweet clean oven. Prices range from $10. to $13.50 each, depending on size and finish—and don't forget the saving of $14.00 yearly.

Western Canada Wheat

"The Wheat of Western Canada is unsurpassed anywhere in the world" writes the "Free Press" editorially, and adds: "In the marketing of Western wheat the outstanding development of recent years, of course, has been the creation of the Pools—the most ambitious undertaking which has resulted from the co-operative movement of the Western farmers."

Painless and perfect in their action, Miller's Worm Powders are always a safe and reliable remedy for children who show symptoms of worms. These symptoms are easily recognizable in a feverish restlessness, frequently ending in convulsions. In point of noable importance is that after Miller's Worm Powders have expelled the worms, the stomach and bowels are toned up into a very healthy condition.

CARRIED WIFE TO BED

Suffered So She Could Not Walk. Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Mining, Ontario.—"I am a practical nurse and I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to all suffering women. For three months I was almost helpless and could not sit at the table long enough to drink a cup of tea. Many a time my husband carried me to bed, I would be so weak and dizzy. I felt as if I was in a woman suffering as I did who got better after taking the Vegetable Compound, so he went with me to the store. When I had taken three bottles I was just like a new woman and have had splendid health ever since. When I feel any bearing-down pains I always take it; sometimes a half bottle or whatever I need. It is my only medicine and I have told many a one about it. Any one wanting to know more about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, I will gladly write to her. I do all I can to recommend it to women who love my life and strength to it."—Mrs. NEAL BOWEN, R.R. 1, Mining, Ontario. Do you feel broken-down, nervous, and weak sometimes? Do you have this horrid feeling of fear when times come to women when it takes at such a time. It always helps, and if taken regularly and persistently will relieve this condition.

Spruce Grove News

The rain storm on Tuesday again slowed up harvesting operations in this district, and a few enterprising threshermen who had started up were forced to desist.

The "Dook" is on the Wagon—Yet; although there's no news of the brewery laying off any hands.

Cut Out the Foolishness

Edmonton is getting so she isn't a bit nice to the surrounding districts. No more high school pupils are to be taken in from outside; truck companies operating into the city will have to pay the same license as the city fellows; and if the country motorist forget where the stop signs are the chances are he'll be run in, because ignorance is no excuse. As one man from the country remarked recently, if this kind of thing continues we'll have to get the Government to step in and make the city cut out some of its foolishness.—Leduc Representative.

Hunting Notes

The hunting season is now open for geese, ducks and Hungarian partridge. It is advisable for intending hunters to obtain their licenses immediately, as no excuse can be taken for any person shooting without the necessary license. Licenses may be had at The Sun Office. Members of the Alberta Police and Game Guardians have instructions to prosecute all cases of violations of the Game Act which come to their notice; it is well to point out the minimum fine under the Game Act is $10.00 and costs.

The open season for prairie chickens commences tomorrow.

The shooting party which went to Mewasin last week after one thousand ducks returned Friday night without the full complement; accurate the car had a tough time getting up the hills with what it was carrying, but no help was required from claps with teams to bring the feathered beauties back to town.

A few pot-hunters were out on Garden Valley Lake on the 26th inst., where the ducks are said to be congregating. One chap who motored from town was so late in returning that his frim was greatly worried, and was on the point of asking aid from the police when her missing spouse turned up carrying bluebills and 1 teal.
